

Rick Lozano Bio

Rick helps people and organizations amplify their greatness to produce stronger results, increase engagement, and develop impact. Combining his talents as a keynote speaker, a world-class facilitator, and a musician and singer/songwriter, Rick brings his unique approach and consistently top-rated sessions to audiences everywhere.

He's spent the better part of the last two decades helping to shape award-winning talent and leadership development programs and positive work cultures. As a speaker and consultant, he has built a reputation for his energy, music, and refreshing delivery that leaves audiences raving and - more importantly - inspired with action items they can immediately implement to produce change.
